MASSIVE BOMBARDMENT HITS QUEMOY

Special Session Ruled Out By Gov. Chandler

FRANKFORT (UPI) — Gov. A. B. Chandler today declined to call a special session of the General Assembly for the extension of unemployment benefits.

He said such a session, "would be an unwarranted and wholly unwarranted expenditure of public money."

Chandler indicated that his request for written support of such legislation from the members of the General Assembly failed to bring a suitable response.

The governor said there were only 10 favorable replies from state senators and only 30 from representatives.

He said he had promised to call a special session of a majority of both houses pledged in writing to vote for one of two proposed bills and also to limit the session to 10 days.

Work Begins, Parking Lot

Work is under way on the municipal parking lot for the city of Murray. The lot, which will be located on East Main street, is one of the largest in the city.

The lot is being built on a site that was formerly a parking lot for the city. The new lot will be built on a site that was formerly a parking lot for the city.

Weather Report

Kentucky Weather Synopsis: A cold front moved to Kentucky Saturday night accompanied by thunderstorms, although rainfall was light, mostly less than one-fourth inch. Temperatures Sunday ranged from 75 to 85—about 10 degrees from Saturday.

Good, dry weather should persist today and tonight over Kentucky becoming somewhat warmer Tuesday. Winds will be from the northwest today at five to 15 miles per hour.

Outlook for Wednesday: partly cloudy and turning cooler.

Regional Forecast: All sections of Kentucky—Fair and pleasant today, high from 77 to 85 in the west. Clear and cool tonight, low 62 to 68 in the west. Tuesday mostly fair and warmer, high 85 to 90.

Tobacco Curing Advisory: Curing weather for burley tobacco over the weekend generally was good through northern and western Kentucky but only fair through the southern Blue Grass and the southeast, where humidity averaged a little better than 70 per cent both days. Drier weather is expected today with afternoon humidity ranging from 30 to 40 per cent. It will again be too cool for good curing in the east tonight, although probably not cool enough for fires in the barns except in those areas where the tobacco is very large and has not been drying properly. Conditions for curing burley should continue good Tuesday. Barns should be opened early today and remain open until late afternoon, according to the tobacco experts at the University of Kentucky Experiment Station.

Research On Cancer Conducted By Salk

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Research work on cancer cells is being conducted by Dr. Jonas E. Salk in conjunction with the University of Pittsburgh.

Salk, developer of the anti-polio serum which bears his name, was awarded a $200,000 grant from the National Foundation to continue studies which he hopes would eliminate the necessity of using monkeys in producing the polio vaccine.

In announcing the grant this past weekend the university shed some light on the more recent experimental work on cells by the world-renowned scientist, who earlier this summer emphasized he had not discovered any treatment for cancer.

In answer to queries concerning his new studies, Salk termed them "strictly exploratory." The announcement said Salk is testing in test tubes and trying to determine if he is unable in an anti-polio serum.

A by-product of the experiments, according to the university, could be the acquisition of knowledge as to the action of cancerous and non-cancerous cells. A further step could possibly lead to a blood test by which cancer would be diagnosed, a serum to combat the disease, or even one to prevent it, the university said.

Boeing 707 Makes 'Slow' Flight

LONDON (UPI) — A Pan-American World Airways Boeing 707 today became the first American commercial jet airliner to fly the Atlantic from New York to London. It made the flight in what an airline spokesman called the "slow" time of 7 hours 28 minutes actual flying.

Although this time did not include stopovers at Gander, Newfoundland, Shannon, Ireland, it did include 26 minutes of practice landings at Gander, the spokesman said.

The 707's pilot, Capt. Scott Flower, reported it was a "perfect flight."

The huge plane, Pan American's first 707, covered the 1,975-mile over-water leg between Gander and Shannon in 3 hours 47 minutes. Its average speed was 325 miles an hour, but a spokesman said it flew as fast as 610 miles an hour at times, despite lack of the tail winds normally experienced on eastward flights.

An average 16,000 persons annually visit the 19th century plantation home of former Vice President John C. Calhoun on the Clemson College campus in South Carolina.

Local Firm Entered Last Friday Night

J. D. Murphy, owner of the Murray Home and Auto Store, reported today that his firm had entered sometime Friday night.

Murphy said that he suspected a colored boy who had worked for him a short time. On being apprehended the boy indicated that he had broken into the store and taken some money and a watch.

Part of the money was recovered and the boy was given a deadline to return the watch. Nothing else is reported as missing from the store.

Miss America Sets Out To Collect Fortune From Title

By CLAIRE COX
United Press International
ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI) — A brown-eyed Mississippi choir singer, who was named Miss America Saturday night, set out today to collect the fortune that goes with the title.

Mary Ann Mobley, 21, Brandon, Miss., college senior, who never had a date until she was 16 years old, became the first Mississippi entrant ever to win the beauty title shortly before midnight Saturday in a nationally televised finale to the week-long pageant.

"It used to be the biggest tomboy you've ever seen," she later told a press conference. "I had long pigtails and I wore braces on my teeth for four years. I was 16 when I had my first date."

Miss Mobley, who wants to sing and dance on Broadway, won the coveted title over 52 contestants from 46 states, the cities of Washington, D.C., Chicago and New York, and Alaska, Hawaii and Canada. She weighs 114 pounds and measures 34½-22-35.

She won a total of $10,000 in scholarships, $15,000 in clothes, furs, an auto and a television set, and the opportunity to earn a small fortune during her year-long reign.

A total of $38,000 in scholarships was given to the 20 top winners among the 52.

New "Girard" Case Rises In Japan

TOKYO (UPI) — A U.S. airman today described as "a horrible accident" a shooting incident in which he fatally wounded a Japanese passenger aboard a train.

The airman was Peter E. Longpre, 19, of Lakewood, Calif., on duty at Johnson Air Force Base when a rifle he was carrying fired and fatally wounded Sachiyuki Miyamura, 22, a music student who was riding by in a train.

Longpre issued a formal statement today saying, "I am deeply sorry." Col. Ray Vandiver, commander of the air base, expressed his own "deepest personal and official regret" for the incident. Vandiver appealed for the "understanding and good will" of the Japanese and said he hoped the case could be resolved with "equity and justice."

But already groups were at work in Japan to revive the jurisdiction issue which had been fought once before under similar circumstances in the case of Spc3 William S. Girard who shot and killed a Japanese woman on a rifle range.

The powerful Socialist Party told the supreme procurator-general's office public prosecutor today it was difficult to interpret the Longpre case as an "on duty crime" and demanded it conduct a thorough investigation.

Longpre, in his statement, said, "I accidentally discharged an M-1 rifle which I carried in the course of my duty. I did not intend to shoot at anyone or anything. I didn't realize that there was a magazine in the rifle at the time of the incident."

Restraining Order On Transfer Is Dissolved By Judge

FRANKFORT (UPI) — Franklin Circuit Judge William B. Ardrey today dissolved a temporary restraining order prohibiting Gov. A. B. Chandler from transferring the Division of Property Utilization from the state Department of Education.

The order remains in effect, however, for 20 days, during which time the department will be under the supervision of Robert R. Martin, mayor of the city of Frankfort.

Chandler last Wednesday ordered the division — which employs 45 persons and distributes some six million dollars worth of surplus federal property annually — transferred to the Department of Finance.

Franklin Circuit Court Clerk Kelly Smith said the absence of Ardrey — last Thursday issued the temporary order, restraining Chandler, Finance Commissioner Orba Traylor and state Treasurer Henry Carter from action until the court rules in the case.

State Atty. Gen. J. M. Ferguson filed the suit asking that the state officials be restrained from effecting the transfer. He declared that state law will not permit the governor to transfer a division by executive order unless it is approved by the head of the department.

Nationalist Ammo Ship Blown From Water In New Shelling

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI) — Communist artillery opened a massive bombardment of the Quemoy Islands today and destroyed a Nationalist ammunition ship which had reached the offshore islands under protection of the U.S. 7th Fleet.

The Defense Ministry said U.S. Navy escort ships conveyed the ammunition ship and several others to the three-mile limit today but stood offshore and Communist artillery did not fire at them. U.S. convoy vessels also stood offshore Sunday when the Nationalists landed supplies.

However, Peiping Radio reported eight more U.S. warships entered Chinese Communist territorial waters today and said "this is obviously a most dangerous act of deliberate provocation" and that the Red-Chinese Foreign Ministry was issuing a second "serious warning."

Will Retaliate
An official spokesman for the Nationalist Defense Ministry said today's shelling might justify Nationalist action against the Communist bombardment.

Nationalist Sabrejets escorting supply vessels to Quemoy shot down seven Communist Migs and damaged two others in the biggest aerial battle of the Taiwan Straits "little war." Only three Migs of a flight of 12 escaped undamaged.

A Nationalist announcement said 12 Mig-17s approached an equal number of Nationalist Sabrejets from the rear. The Sabrejet flight leader barked over his radio: "Let's turn around and get them," and the battle was on.

The jets fought a series of diving battles for eight minutes about 16 miles off the China Coast. Capt. Chin Ping-chun followed one Mig in a screaming dive from 30,000 to 8,000 feet and nearly exhausted his ammunition in furious bursts before he destroyed the Soviet-built plane.

Capt. Liu Hsien-wu destroyed two Migs within six minutes for the only multiple claim.

All the downed Migs crashed into the sea, some in flames. One Red pilot was seen to bail out. Using the extra speed advantages gained from dives, several Sabrejets closed to within 200 feet of Migs before destroying them.

Near the end of the battle, the Nationalists said, scores of other Migs took off from nearby Chenghai air base. But the Sabres, with fuel tanks nearly empty, took off for home before the Mig reinforcements could join the battle.

The Communists, after a three-day lull, opened up with a bombardment of all the 14 Quemoy Islands in a shelling described by the Ministry of National Defense as "very heavy."

Ewo Ships Hit
The Communist shells rained down on the Quemoy beaches and damaged a medium LSM landing ship. A second LSM burst into flames after which the bombardment abated slightly.

Peiping delivered its first "serious warning" then said the American ships invaded Peiping's 12-mile territorial limit which the United States does not recognize.

Rear Adm. Liu Hsiang-tu, official spokesman for the Nationalist Defense Ministry, called the new Communist attacks "entirely provocative" because they came during Peiping-Washington negotiations to reopen peace talks.

Protests Expected
The Communists made the same charge of American and Nationalist action and said they were bombarding the Quemoy today in a punitive move to protest "provocative" actions. Peiping Radio also protested joint Vino-American amphibious operations on southern Formosa today as a preparation for invasion of the mainland.

It was the first reported shelling since Friday and it came after warnings in the Nationalist press that further attacks would lead to "massive retaliation" by the Nationalist air force against mainland targets. The Nationalists warned civilians to leave threatened mainland areas.

The Nationalist air force said an undisclosed number of Sabrejets were jumped by "many" Mig-17s and that a furious battle raged in the skies southward from Quemoy to Swatow, 110 miles away, site of a major Communist air base. The air force said all Nationalist air force planes returned safely to Formosa although one was damaged.

Peiping Radio's angry blasts against the American-Chinese landing exercises in southern Formosa and against the American naval conveying of Nationalist supply vessels to Quemoy brought new tension to the Straits after a weekend lull.

First Ever Held
Thousands of American and Nationalist marines stormed a 15-mile beach in southern Formosa today in the first Sino-American amphibious exercise ever held.

The New China News Agency, official agency of the Chinese Communist government, said "the timing of the first amphibious operation the United States ever held jointly with the Chinese Communist government makes it very clear that it is not a routine drill" as the Americans have said.

The scale and nature of the exercise show most clearly the open efforts by the United States to prepare for military attacks against the people's republic of China.

Both the U.S. 7th Fleet and the Nationalist Defense Ministry announced American warships had conveyed Nationalist supply vessels to Quemoy in daylight Sunday. There was no Communist artillery then.

Russia Warns U.S.
Moscow, which has pledged the full support of the entire Communist bloc to Peiping in event of war, reaffirmed its position Sunday night when it said the Chinese Communists and Russians "are bound by a unity the like of which has never been equalled in history between two great nations."

It warned any attempt by U.S. warships to come to the aid of Nationalist Chinese inside Red China's territorial waters "will be the clearest case of aggression."

Red China announced a new 12-mile limit for its territorial waters and the United States replied it would recognize only the old three-mile limit.

UPI correspondent Charles Smith, now with the U.S. 7th Fleet, said the American vessels were "authorized to throw everything but the kitchen sink, if the fleet were to be attacked by the communists."

General Meet Woman's Club Thursday

Mrs. Charles Clark, president of the Murray Woman's Club, hopes that all members will make a special effort to be present at the first general dinner meeting on September 11 at the Club House. Dinner will be served promptly at 6:00 o'clock, she said. The guest speaker will be Rev. Bogard Dunn.

The dinner hour has been set for 6:00 o'clock to enable all parents with high school students to attend the "Go to School night for the Parents," which will be the first high school PTA meeting held this year. It will be at 7:45 in the school auditorium.

Both of these meetings are important, she said, and it is hoped that all club members and parents will attend.

The first commercially air-conditioned residence in the world is believed to have been the mansion of Charles C. Gates, heir to the fortune of the fabulous John W. "Bet-a-Million" Gates.

TIME TO SPEAK UP

HERBERT VOGEL, chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority, said at Carlyle, Illinois: "The time has come when the people of the Tennessee Valley should speak with their loud voice on future development."

The remark was made in a discussion of the proposal
by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States that the power facilities of TVA be sold to private interests,
and that rates be increased to the national average.

What the Chamber of Commerce has done in several towns in withdrawing its membership from the national organization is one way of "speaking up," and its example should be followed by every community now enjoying TVA electricity.

What General Vogel said about folks "speaking up"
reminds us of what Gordon Clapp, another TVA chairman, once said. He said unless some way could be found for TVA to use at least a million dollars of its earnings each year in paid advertising the time would come when its facilities would be taken over by private power companies.

Well, TVA can't use a dime of its earnings for advertising, and most of the 150 municipal and rural co-operatives are too short-sighted to do so. Like all publicly owned institutions they rely solely on free publicity, and that kind of "advertising" is often neglected, even by friendly newspapers.

During the recent session of Congress 182 newspapers
in the Tennessee Valley contributed to a full-page ad
published in a Washington newspaper in an effort to get Congress to pass a self-financing bill for TVA, and in less than a week Senator Estes Kefauver, who has posed as TVA's best friend for years, announced he would see to it that the newspapers were not allowed to deduct the cost of the advertising from their income taxes.

The point is that the Tennessee Senator waited 25 years before attacking advertising appropriations of private power companies in their effort to destroy TVA, and he waited less than a week to attack the same sort of advertising in defense of TVA by local newspapers.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States is controlled by the private power interests.

It may have accomplished something friends of TVA have been unable to do - it may have caused folks in Tennessee Valley to wake up to the fact that powerful enemies have been waging a fight against this federal agency for 25 years, and the time has come when they think they can deal it a death blow without further delay.

All daily and weekly newspapers in the Tennessee Valley get a weekly "handout" from TVA headquarters in Knoxville, but like all publicity from federal and state agencies most of it is assigned to "file 13," commonly known as the waste basket, because it has little local interest.

If local utility boards won't use a part of their earnings to sell the advantages of TVA to their consumers through paid advertising a valley-wide fund should be established for that purpose.

We think General Vogel is right in saying the time has come for the people of the valley to speak up in defense of TVA, but there is a great danger that it is too late unless drastic steps are taken.

Everybody in the advertising business appreciates the value of repetition - selling an idea by repeating it often enough - and the private power industry has branded TVA as "socialism" so long and so often without being challenged, that millions of people believe it.

We believe there is only one way to combat a "Big Lie," and that is by telling the truth as often, and over as long a period of time as it may take, to expose the motives of those spending millions to tear down the

All Over But The Shouting For Yankees And Braves

By FRED DOWNS

United Press International
It's all over but the shouting for the New York Yankees and Milwaukee Braves.

The Yankees reduced their magic number for clinching the American League pennant to six when they split a doubleheader
with the Washington Senators Sunday while the Braves cut their figure to 10 when they divided with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

This means the Yankees are almost certain to clinch their ninth pennant in 10 years under Casey Stengel early in a 13-game road trip beginning Tuesday night. The Braves may have to wait a few days longer but they're pretty sure to nail down
Fred Haney's second straight sometime during their forthcoming seven-game home stand at St. Louis Sept. 17 or 18.

The Yankees completed their last long home stand of the year with a 12-game lead Sunday
when Duke Maas' four - hitter gave them a 7-0 triumph over Pedro Ramos shut them out for the second straight time, 1-0. The Yankees gained ground in the split because the Cleveland Indians rallied to beat the second-place Chicago White Sox, 4-3, in a game marked by a near flat fight.

Spahn Wins 19th

The Braves fended off the challenge of the Pirates when Warren Spahn beat the Bucs, 3-1,
for his 19th triumph. The Pirates' Vic Vito lory in the nightcap served merely to hold the Braves' lead at 7 1/2 games - and they have only 16 games left.

The Kansas City Athletics
scored three runs in the ninth to edge the Detroit Tigers, 3-2, and the Boston Red Sox beat the Baltimore Orioles, 6-3, on Frank Malzone's 10th-inning double in the other American League games.

In the National League, Ernie Sievers' double and Norm Zau-chin's infield out.
Wes Covington knocked in all three of the Braves' runs with a single and double in the opener
as Spahn came within one victory of a record ninth 20-win campaign. Bob Skinner drove in three runs with a single and a homer and Bill Mazeroski tripled to spark the Pirates' eight-hit attack that tagged Lew Burdette with his 10th loss in the second game.

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. - Al-
the Gibson of New York retained her U. S. women's singles tennis title by beating Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif., 3-6, 6-1, 6-2.

Iron Curtain Railroads Have Easier Time Than Those In U.S.

By KURT NEUBAUER
United Press International

BUDAPEST — (UPI) — Railroads may be piling up deficits and tearing up tracks in America but behind the Iron Curtain
it's a far different story.
In the east, thousands of new miles of track are being constructed. The Communist countries are tying together their networks. In a word, the railroad business is booming.

This much emerged last June when 140 delegates from 25 European nations of east and west gathered here in the annual congress of the International Railway Organization (U.I.C.F.).
Union Internationale des Chemins
(de Fer).

An O.S.S.H.F. spokesman emphasized that besides the modernization of existing railroads, new lines have been built or are under construction in Eastern Europe and especially in Soviet Russia.

He declined to give exact figures but said that railroad lines
being built in Russia presently are "thousands of kilometers"
long.

As one example he mentioned that a 2,000 - km line is being built in the Karakorum area and that other brand-new railroad lines are under construction in Kazakhstan and in eastern and western Siberia. He also said that a new branch line of the Trans-Siberian Railroad would improve the traffic communications with China after it completion.

The spokesman said, however,
that the "most gigantic" railroad construction program of all "People's Democracies" is being carried out in China — although it would still be "decades"
before China has sufficient railroad communications.

He also announced that "great efforts" are being made in all eastern European countries, especially in Russia, to replace steam engines with electric and diesel engines.

But, despite this, steam power
"for a long time" will still be the chief source of motion in eastern Europe. The spokesman could not give exact figures but said "more than 80 per cent" of all rail traffic in eastern Europe. The spokesman could not give exact figures but said
"more than 80 per cent" of all rail traffic in eastern Europe
still travels by steam.

American claims that the eastern nations are improving their railroad net as fast as possible,
mainly for "strategic reasons."
The spokesman, Pauline Riggs Haines, said that the creation of new industrial and economic centers
make it necessary to improve railroad communications but we have no strategic reasons in mind when planning new railroad lines," he claimed.

SPACE FOR RENT

SACRAMENTO, Calif. — (UPI) —
If there is a man in the moon, Pauline Riggs Haines wants to be the first one there to sell him a house.

A Downey, Calif., broker, Mrs.
Haines recently wrote the State
Division of Real Estate: "Enclosed please find $1. . . I wish to be the first to apply for a branch office on the moon."

"My children insist this will come in my time. It is hard to believe, but I want to be ready,"
Real Estate Commissioner F.
W. Grissinger showed that his imagination was at least equal to Mrs. Haines'.

West Germans Buying Cannon For Ceremony

POKING, Germany — (UPI) — The cannon business is booming in this small Bavarian village near the Austrian frontier. Not the fearsome atomic variety, but old-fashioned cannon for ceremonial use.

In 33 years, Joseph Wenig has turned out 2,300 of the guns at his foundry. He says he's now getting more orders than ever before.

"Apparently," said the small, bespectacled, 70-year-old Wenig, "people still like the idea of the booming noise of the cannon to celebrate special occasions."

He said most of his orders come from the West German Army and Navy rifle clubs and from wealthy families.

The Wenig foundry, which now employs 12 craftsmen plus Wenig's 34-year-old son Ulfram, turns out cannon in four different sizes. They range in price from $100 to $450. Ammunition is also available at 50 cents a round.

Quite often, Wenig rolls his arsenal out into a nearby field and fires the cannon one after the other. It's an impressive sight — and an awesome sound.

PERSONALS

Miss Rosemary Jones returned this week-end from Detroit, Mich., where she has been visiting with her aunt, Mrs. John Williams.

NURSERIES
NOW THEY KNOW — Now the head maternity nurses at Magee hospital in Pittsburgh, Pa., know what the score is. Here they are with their new babies, Mrs. A. Don Robb on left and Mrs. Daniel D. Perovich on right. Both had their daughters on the same day and both occupied same room.

SOUR CREAM, mixed with onion soup, tops off a hearty Beef-Macaroni Casserole that Pop can "prepare" himself, providing you cook and freeze it, leave reheating instructions.

Ready and Waiting

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

WHAT does Pop want to find ready and waiting when he heads home after a hard day at the office? A good hot meal!

It's what he deserves, and that's why Mom's usually shy about taking an evening off to enjoy dinner and a show with the girls. But she could, and should, do just that occasionally. It can be managed—and to that Very Important Man's satisfaction, too!

To the Rescuer!

Enter the freezer. It comes to the rescue!

Open the door of a new model that's deceptively slim—only 30½ inches wide—and there are shelves of reasons why Mom can have an evening out without worrying about what the family will eat! Meats, frozen vegetables, all sorts of foods are stored on five shelves and in one bin. The door's fitted with still more shelves.

If he conforms, Pop won't want to pick and choose from the freezer line-up. Like most men, he'll want his dinner to be specially pre-selected for him.

A cooked-ahead casserole does it! Something you've made in advance with your own hands will keep him from having that "I'm-taking-pot-luck" feeling. Beef-Macaroni Casserole is a good choice. Hearty, it's sure to satisfy a man-size appetite.

Freezing Suggestions
As with all casseroles to be freezer-stored, the recipe doesn't call for complete cooking of vegetables. Reheating finishes the cooking job for you. Note, too, the lack of potatoes, which tend to get mushy when frozen in liquid. The only seasoning is a teaspoon of salt; that's because seasonings intensify freezing.

Cool the casserole quickly, place in the freezer. Label with instructions. "Cook 45 minutes at 375° F." and Pop will have no problems!

New instant espresso will make a tall, cool drink either iced coffee or a combination—in seconds. See that DINNER'S READY, waiting and labeled on the freezer shelf. All Pop does is to remove it and pop it right into the oven.

there's a portion of his favorite dessert on tap, too. Leave a note that tells where everything is, lists any how-to suggestions and is signed with love and kisses. It'll show Pop that the head of the house really rates, even when his lady has a day off.

Beef and Macaroni Casserole: Cook 1 (8 oz.) pkg. macaroni according to pkg. instructions.

Melt 2 tbsp. butter in skillet. Add 1 lb. ground beef and 2 tbsp. green pepper, chopped. Sauté until meat is browned.

Combine ½ pt. sour cream and 3 tbsp. (½ pkg.) onion soup mix. Blend.

Heat to boiling and whip with rotary egg beater, slowly adding 1 c. milk.

Combine macaroni, meat and onion soup mixture. Place in 1½-qt. casserole. Cover. Bake in moderate oven, 350° F., for 20 min.

Remove cover to cool quickly. Freeze.

Makes 6 to 8 servings.
To reheat, place in 375° F. oven for 45 min.

Iced Espresso: Add 2 rounded tsp. instant espresso to cup of cold water. Stir. Pour over ice in glass, add cream and sugar to taste.

Espresso Oshu: Spoon 3 tsp. pineapple juice in a ice-filled glass, fill with espresso coffee made as above.

Espresso Cola: Pack tall glass with crushed ice. Pour 1 tsp. cream over ice. Fill glass with mixture of half cola, half espresso coffee.

Idaho Boasts Governor With The Soul Of A Poet

BOISE, Ida. — (UPI) — "When all the colors of Indian summer have streamed down the winds of Autumn, and the first snows have mantled the mountains with winter's promise of water for another year..."

Those cooling, poetic phrases were culled, believe it or not, from a proclamation on Thanksgiving Day issued last year by Robert E. Smylie, Governor of Idaho.

For Smylie is a politician with the soul of a poet. He likes to "play the dictionary by ear." By that, he means he not only wants to know the definition of words but is intrigued by their sounds as well.

When he wrote his Thanksgiving Day proclamation, the governor explained, he wanted to convey the real feeling of the holiday.

Poetry comes naturally to Smylie. When he was a boy in his native Iowa, Bob Smylie was inspired by his mother to try his hand at it.

She was somewhat of an amateur poet herself and even had some of her works published in a Des Moines newspaper. Some mothers sing their children to sleep. Others read stories. But Smylie's mother read poetry to her brood.

"I learned to like the sound of words," the governor said, "and I have the feeling that they often-times convey a meaning by sound that transcends their dictionary meaning. For instance, take the word 'solitude.' This sounds like what it means—peace and quiet."

Poetry dates back to Homer.
